DRINK QUESTION UP IN ENGLISH PARLIAMENT

Britain Spent Two Billion For Drink Past Year

LONDON, Feb. 11.—The drink question was briefly discussed in both houses of parliament yesterday. Earl Curzon told the lords that the bill on this subject to be introduced would contain provisions for shorter hours of sale. The experiment of state management certainly would not be dropped.

In the house of commons the subject was alluded to by Sir Donald Maclean.

"The fact that America has gone dry is an economic fact of the greatest importance to Great Britain," he said.

He declared the British expenditure for drink absolutely staggered him. The country spent more than 104,000,000 pounds ($200,000,000) for drink in 1914, he said, and this expenditure increased steadily until it was 230,000,000 pounds ($450,000,000) in 1918, while it was estimated that the expenditure for the year ending March 31, next would be nearly 300,000,000 pounds ($600,000,000). He was unaware what the duty on the consumption for the last named period would produce for the public revenue, but the duty of 1918 was 48,500,000 pounds ($95,000,000). It was a form of revenue that all chambers of the exchequer would be pleased to be able to dispense with, he said. He hoped the measures proposed by the government would prove to be a serious attempt to grapple with the evil.

The liquor question will be debated in the house of commons during the present week when, according to a lobby report Lady Astor will speak on the topic.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—Director General Hines will make answer to the wage demands of the 2,000,000 railroad workers on his own responsibility and from the standpoint of the railroad administration and will then report to the president. It was said today at the White House. Mr. Wilson then will approve or disapprove the decision.

Heretofore the president generally has passed upon wage decisions after the railroad administration answer was given to the union representatives. No reason was assigned for the departure from the usual custom in this case.

In the light of the urgent demands of the trainmen and the strike call issued by officers of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees, both railroad administration and White House officials regard the situation as extremely grave. Mr. Hines has held a long conference with Secretary Taft, who has submitted a memorandum on the subject to the president. Mr. Wilson still has this memorandum before him.

Conferences between Mr. Hines and the Brotherhood officers were to have been resumed this morning, but at the appointed hour neither side was ready to go ahead and the meeting was postponed until 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The committee of ten, representing the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees, arrived here today from Detroit and immediately went into conference with J. B. Matley, vice president of the union, and its other representatives in the wage negotiations with Mr. Hines.

Members of the committee refused to discuss the strike order, or any phase of the wage controversy, they were expected to attend the general conference of the union officials with Mr. Hines later in the day. Railroad administration officials said they had not been asked by the maintenance of way employees for a private meeting with Mr. Hines.

Robert Underwood Johnson Is Selected Ambassador To Rome By The President

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—Robert Underwood Johnson, of New York, author and editor and one of the founders of the League to Enforce Peace, has been selected by President Wilson as ambassador to Rome. To succeed Thomas Nelson Page, of Virginia, who resigned several months ago. The president is expected to send the nomination to the senate within a few days.

Mr. Johnson was originator of the memorial to Keats and Shelley in Rome, originator and chairman of the poets' jubilee in Italy in 1917, and author of Italian chapbook and other poems of Italy published in 1917. He was decorated by the Italian government in 1895; was made cavaliere of the crown of Italy. Mr. Johnson was born in Washington 67 years ago and was editor of the Century Magazine from November 1909 to May, 1913. He induced General Grant to write his memoirs and set on foot the movement which resulted in the creation of the Yosemite National Park.

Soldiers Pay Part Of Rail Fare

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 11.—Although members of the legislature have been forced to pay railroad fare to and from legislative sessions at the rate of three cents a mile, Attorney General Price has ruled to J. E. Maynard clerk of the house of representatives that the members can receive mileage at the rate of only two cents a mile, the fare rate fixed by Ohio law. Maynard declared that some members will lose as high as $100 because of this ruling, which also has been made to State Auditor Donahy.

PRISONER IS SPIRITED AWAY FROM LEXINGTON

LEXINGTON, KY., Feb. 11.—Although William Lockett convicted murderer of 10-year-old Geneva Hardman, was safe today in Edinburg prison, where he is to pay the death penalty for his crime, on March 11, 500 troops were held today in Lexington which remains nominally under martial law.

Military officers spirited Lockett out of town on a special train late last night. Four hundred of the special troops ordered here Monday to suppress mob rioting, in which five persons were killed and many wounded in an unsuccessful attempt to lynch Lockett, accompanied the train.

In view of the fact that there appears to be no further need for presence of soldiers here, it was believed the order involving martial law would be revoked today and the remaining federal troops returned to Camp Taylor.

All martial law restrictions are off. The martial law still holds, however. The city police have resumed their duties.

COVINGTON, KY., Feb. 11.—Members of Company D, Kentucky Guard of Lexington, who quelled the mob in Lexington were back to their shops and offices today, having returned from Lexington via Frankfort last night. Because of rumors that friends of those killed in the rioting Monday had threatened revenge upon Company D, Captain Crockett, who led the men upon detaining Mrs. Crockett, reported that the saw two men acting suspiciously around the army and an investigation was to be made today. At Frankfort Company D was applauded by the legislature and Governor Morrow complimented them upon their service to the state.

EDDYVILLE, KY., Feb. 11.—William Lockett, under a heavy guard of federal soldiers, was removed this morning from the special train which bore him here from Lexington and was taken to the state penitentiary, where a special death watch was placed over his cell. The train arrived at 8 o'clock and an hour and a half later the troops were on their way back to Camp Taylor. The trip from Lexington and from the station here to the prison was made without incident.

The same elaborate precautions to protect Lockett which have been in evidence ever since the military authorities assumed responsibility for him were taken when the train arrived in Eddyville. Squads of men with fixed bayonets were deployed at intervals from the railroad station to the prison. Lockett, in the center of a squad of 50 soldiers, was taken from the train and in about half a mile to the prison where an evening chapter in Kentucky history finally will be here on March 11.

A shell pierced a boiler and the transport sank with all aboard."

Ohio's Two Cent Railroad Fare Is Repealed

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Stocks dropped 2 to 8 points in the local market today as a result of further heavy selling from federal control. March 1, they will have to drop back to the two cent fare rate until the new law goes into effect.

Besides the Pearson bill, Governor Cox today signed the following bills:

By McCoy, of Mahoning, authorizing controlling political committees to nominate candidates for members of the general assembly to fill vacancies.

By Cable of Stark, making the open season for syndicates from September 15 to October 20 instead of September 1 to October 1.

By Lusk of Ottawa, requiring owners of cherry-picks to spray for destruction of insects.

By Robins of Ross, authorizing judges to increase salaries of protection officers to juvenile courts.

By Donahy, of Mahoning, providing for refunding of collateral inheritance taxes paid when it has been judicially determined that the whole or part of the tax should not have been paid.

Reveals How Allies Accepted Wilson's 14 Points As Basis For Armistice Negotiations

PARIS, Feb. 11.—How the allies accepted President Wilson's 14 points in connection with armistice negotiations was revealed for the first time by the Echo de Paris today. It was at a meeting in the office of Stephen Pichon, foreign minister, on November 3, 1918. Previous meetings at Versailles had fixed the military conditions of an armistice and the government officials had met for final deliberation.

David Lloyd George, the British premier, the Echo de Paris says, stated to Colonel House and declared: "If we have thoroughly understood President Wilson's thought, the armistice negotiations which the American government is disposed to open with Germany in concert with the allied powers are subordinated by the agreement by the allied powers of the principles and conditions of peace decided by the president on January 8, and to his subsequent speeches. In a word we must give our assent to the 14 points."

Colonel House is reported to have answered that was so. Premier Clemenceau inquired: "As for the 14 points, I have not read them yet. Let me know what they are."

Colonel House began but after he had read the first point (relative to open covenants of peace openly arrived at), M. Clemenceau exclaimed: "That cannot be accepted. You can not negotiate in the middle of a public street."

A. J. Balfour, British secretary of state, for foreign affairs, explained this point meant only publication of a result and not the steps by which they were reached, and the French premier answered:

"In that case, my objections fall to the ground."

Reading of the second point, in which Mr. Wilson declared in favor of "the freedom of the seas," brought a reservation from Premier Lloyd George, but the important third point (regarding the removal of economic barriers) and others went through quickly. Only when the seventh (providing the evacuation and restoration of Belgium) the eighth (declaring all French territory must be freed and restored and that the wrong done France by Prussia in 1871, relative to Alsace-Lorraine) and the eleventh (in which the future status of Rumania, Serbia and Montenegro was considered), were read, were three further reservations as to the matter of reparations put into the situation.

After all the points had been read, M. Clemenceau turned to Colonel House saying:

"In case we reject the 14 points, what would happen?"

"President Wilson would consider conversations he has engaged in with the allies on the subject of the armistice as ended," was Colonel House's reply.

"Would he also consider as ended the conversations he began with the Germans in October?" asked the French premier.

"I can give you no assurance of that," replied Colonel House.

At this decisive moment Premier Clemenceau pronounced the armistice "adopted." Premier Lloyd George hastened the rapid decision by saying:

"We reserve to ourselves the right to formulate reservations as regards freedom of the seas and reparations."

MORE THAN 17 MILLION OF THESE LITTLE SOLDIERS WENT ON DUTY LAST YEAR

If Placed End to End, the Packages of Vick's VapoRub Used Last Year Would Reach from New York to Philadelphia, to Pittsburgh, to Cleveland, to Detroit—a Distance of 701 Miles

Vick's VapoRub

is a Real "Little Bodyguard" Against Croup and Cold Troubles in Literally Millions of American Homes

What is Vicks?

Vicks is the invention of a North Carolina druggist, Mr. L. Richardson. During his years of experience behind the prescription counter, Mr. Richardson came to realize the need for some effective and convenient method of treating diseases of the respiratory organs, such as spasmodic croup, pneumonia, bronchitis, etc. The only way to get medication directly to these parts is in vapor form, since internal medicines go only to the stomach.

Mr. Richardson finally worked out a process of combining the standard, time-tested remedies—Camphor, Menthol, Turpentine, Oil of Eucalyptus, etc.—in salve form, so that when applied to the body, the ingredients would be vaporized by the body heat. This preparation he called Vick's VapoRub.

How Vicks Acts

The action of Vicks is two-fold:

1st—Internal—the vapors released carry the medication with each breath from the air passages to the lungs, loosening the phlegm and clearing the air passages.

2nd—External—Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the affected parts, and thus aids the vapors inhaled to relieve the congestion.

This double action of Vicks makes it useful for a wide variety of troubles, from deep chest colds, bronchitis, coughs, spasmodic croup and sore throat, down to burns, stings, bruises, etc.

How the Use of Vicks Has Grown

The best evidence of the value of Vicks is the increasing number of families who are converted each year to the use of this real "Little Bodyguard in the Home". The number of jars used annually for the last few years is:

1910	347,748 Jars
1911	523,152 Jars
1912	1,027,068 Jars
1913	1,357,511 Jars
1914	1,462,330 Jars
1915	2,418,213 Jars
1916	4,322,764 Jars
1917	5,799,511 Jars
1918	17,377,408 Jars

Directions for the Use of Vicks

VAPORS IMPORTANT For diseases of the respiratory organs, such as colds, a large part of the value of Vicks lies in its vaporizing qualities. Therefore, whenever Vicks is applied over the throat and chest, care should be taken to leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bedclothes arranged in the form of a funnel, so that the vapors arising may be freely inhaled.

HOT WET CLOTHS In cases of very severe colds, sore throat, coughs, insipient pneumonia, etc., hot, wet towels should be applied over the throat and chest to open the pores of the skin before applying Vicks.

FRESH AIR Plenty of fresh air in the bed room is the best way to prevent colds and lung troubles. Fresh air does not cause colds; it strengthens the lungs, enabling the system to throw off colds.

ASTHMA Vicks is not a "cure" for asthma—so far as we know, there is no cure. In many cases, however, Vicks does give relief. Rub it well over the spinal column, from the neck to the hips to relieve the nervous tension. Then apply freely over throat and chest at bed time and cover with hot flannels. Renew frequently and always have the covers loose, so that the vapors may be freely inhaled. Also melt Vicks in a spoon and inhale the vapors and apply a little up the nostrils.

BRONCHITIS, SORE THROAT, COLDS IN THE CHEST If a severe case, first apply hot, wet towels over the throat and chest. Then rub Vicks in well until the skin is red; spread on thickly and cover with two thicknesses of hot, flannel cloths.

CATARH, COLDS IN THE HEAD Melt a little Vicks in a spoon and inhale the vapors. Also apply well up the nostrils. There are so many varieties of catarrh that a competent physician should always be consulted. For many forms, however, Vicks is excellent. Dissolve a half teaspoonful of salt in a pint of warm water and stuff up the nostrils night and morning. Then insert Vicks freely up the nostrils as far as possible, snuffing well back into the air passages.

CHILDREN'S COLDS Vicks is particularly valuable in treating children's colds, since it is an external treatment, and therefore does not disturb the delicate digestion of children. The best plan is to keep Vicks constantly on hand and apply freely and often at the first sign of "sniffles."

Growing children require plenty of fresh air and exercise and should be kept in the open as much as possible, even in the winter.

COUGHS Apply Vicks as directed for Colds in the Chest and Head, and if the cough is very annoying, swallow, every few hours, a small piece the size of a pea.

CROUP-SPASMODIC Rub Vicks freely over the chest and throat until the difficult breathing is relieved. One application is usually enough. To prevent croup during the night, give a good application over the throat and chest at bed time and cover with hot, flannel cloths.

NOTE: Vicks is not a relief for Membranous Croup or Laryngeal Diphtheria. The specific for this disease is antitoxin, which should be administered only by a physician.

HAY FEVER There is no certain cure for this disease. In some cases Vicks gives temporary relief. Apply as for Asthma.

INFLUENZA In spite of the epidemic last winter, very little is known of this disease—even the germ causing it is not yet definitely located and no specific for influenza, so far as known, has been discovered. In all cases a physician should be called promptly.

Vicks is to be used as an external application in connection with the physician's treatment. Apply as directed for Pneumonia.

TO AVOID INFLUENZA Influenza is a spit-borne disease, and when inhaled the germs attack the mucous membrane, or lining of the air passages. Even this is not absolutely certain, but it is agreed by most authorities that keeping the system in good condition and the air passages stimulated and free from colds is the best way to avoid the disease.

Melting a little Vicks in a spoon night and morning and inhaling the vapors, and applying well up the nostrils several times a day, particularly when in crowds, is recommended.

PNEUMONIA (1) Send for your physician at the first sign of pneumonia. (2) Immediately begin the use of Vicks as an external application. For pneumonia, Vicks is applied somewhat as directed for Deep Chest Colds—for full directions see the Directions Folder.

TONSILITIS Apply as directed for Sore Throat.

WHOOPING COUGH This is a self-limited disease, running a course which varies from a few weeks to several months. There is no known specific—Vicks is of value in easing the cough paroxysms, and thus lessening the weakening effect on the system. Rub Vicks well over the spinal column, from the neck to the hips, to relieve the nervous tension. Then apply over throat and chest, covering with hot flannels.

For Surface Congestion and Inflammation

In cases such as are listed below, Vicks is of value as a poultice, liniment or plaster, because of its penetrative and stimulative effect through the skin. Its vaporizing qualities are naturally without value for these troubles.

BITES, STINGS Apply ordinary household ammonia or wet bread soda. Then apply Vicks as a salve.

BOILS Apply cloths, dipped in hot water, to soften the skin; then apply Vicks thickly over the boil, covering with a thin cloth. Repeat every few hours.

BRUISES Apply to the bruised part cloths dipped in hot water followed by cloths dipped in cold water—then hot cloths, then cold cloths again, etc. Keep this up for five or ten minutes to reduce the inflammation. Then apply Vicks thickly, covering with a light cloth. Every few hours repeat the application of the hot and cold cloths, followed by a dressing of Vicks.

BURNS Cover first with wet bread soda. When dry, take off and apply Vicks as a thick dressing, covering with a light cloth. Apply as gently as possible and do not rub in.

CUTS Cleanse the cut well with warm water, then apply Vicks as a salve.

EARACHE In some cases of earache Vicks gives relief. Apply a little on cotton and place in the ear.

ECZEMA-ITCHINGS In many cases these are blood diseases and should be treated by a competent physician. To reduce the itching, and as a cooling, soothing application, apply Vicks over the parts affected, covering with a light cloth. In severe cases do not wash the parts often; water irritates certain forms of eczema.

FROST BITE Rub the parts affected with snow or apply ice water until the blood begins to circulate. Then rub Vicks well in; do not cover with a cloth. Do not bring the parts affected near a fire.

HEADACHE, NEURALGIA Rub the forehead and temples with Vicks, melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors, apply a little well up the nostrils. Headaches come from many causes; they are symptoms of more serious troubles, usually faulty digestion or eye strain. If headaches are continuous, a physician or a good oculist should be consulted.

MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM, SORENESS, STRAINS, SPRAINS For these troubles, alternating applications of hot and cold cloths should be applied as directed for Bruises. Then massage will the parts affected with Vicks, cover thickly and apply hot, flannel cloths. In cases of muscular rheumatism or extreme muscular pain, after following the directions above, a hot water bottle or a warm flat iron may be placed over the flannel cloth to help drive in the Vicks.

FILES Severe cases of piles of long standing should be treated by a competent surgeon. For itching piles, see Directions Folder with each package.

POISON OAK Wash the parts affected with water colored with a pinch of bluestone; put in just enough bluestone to faintly color the water. Be careful not to get this bluestone water in the eyes. (If bluestone is not convenient, use ordinary lime water.) Then apply Vicks lightly; do not rub in. Repeat this treatment, using the bluestone water and Vicks every three or four hours.

SUNBURN Apply Vicks as a salve. Do not rub in.

TOOTHACHE In some cases of toothache, Vicks will be found a temporary relief. Rub it well around the gums, and if the tooth is hollow, put a little Vicks in the hollow. Then apply a hot water bottle or a hot wet towel.

For Animals

For domestic animals and fowls, Vicks has been found effective in certain diseases.

DISTEMPER IN HORSES OR DOGS Rub Vicks on throat and between jawbones and apply freely up the nostrils.

COLDS OR ROUP IN FOWLS Rub a little Vicks over nose holes in beak and make the fowl swallow a piece the size of a bean.

PNEUMONIA OR PLEURISY IN HORSES Keep in a warm, dry, well ventilated, roomy box stall, and give plenty of water and laxative food. Rub Vicks well over chest and push liniment up each nostril. Rub the salve over region of the lungs, back of forelegs and cover with wide bandage. Repeat applications every three or four hours until the fever is broken. Blanket the animal and bandage legs if stall is too cold. Give part of raw linseed oil, into which an ounce of powdered slacked lime has been dissolved. Also give twenty grains of quinine twice daily; wrap dose in tissue paper and throw well back of tongue.

Vicks is Not Meant to Replace the Physician

At the first symptom of a serious illness, such as pneumonia, a physician should always be called. Many other troubles, such as chronic catarrh or continued headaches, call for the diagnosis of a good doctor.

Vicks is simply an emergency remedy, which can be kept in the home ready for instant use and which can be used freely, with perfect safety, on the youngest member of the family.

Samples Free

If you have never tried Vicks, we will be glad to send samples free to you and any of your friends whose names and addresses you will send us.

The Velvet tin is twice as big as shown here

There's a World of Solid Comfort In the Rich, Red Tin

YES, sir, we mean that same warm red and gold tin that smiles a welcoming "Howdy" to you in every tobacco store. Know what those colors mean?

The red is for the friendly warmth, the mellow cheeriness, that Velvet puts into your old pipe. And the gold is where the Kentucky sunshine, that ripens good old Velvet, has just sort of soaked through.

Remember what Velvet Joe said about it?

"You've met canned meat and canned music. Ever see any tinned sunshine? Well, look into any Velvet tin."

And think this over:

We don't have to hide Velvet's taste or smell with a lot of this, that and the other thing. Because Velvet has naturally what pipe smokers want—real simon-pure tobacco taste and fragrance. It's just good, honest Kentucky leaf, made still more friendly and mellow by two years' ageing in wooden hogsheads. Just good tobacco. That's all. But it's mighty near enough for the man who wants a pipeful of tobacco and not a box of bon bons.

The picture of a pipe on the tin needn't keep you from rolling a jim-dandy cigarette with Velvet.

How's the Velvet holding out in your old red tin?

KENTUCKY OPERATORS WITHDRAW

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—After the coal strike settlement commission had agreed today to render a decision as to making the 14 percent wage increase retroactive to October 1 in the Kentucky fields, the Kentucky Operators' Association refused to submit to the jurisdiction of the commission and withdrew from this hearing. This was the first refusal of the operators in any field to accept the commission's settlement of questions involved in the strike. The representatives of the mine workers presented their side of the case, but President Robinson did not indicate what course the commission might pursue in view of the refusal of the operators to give their views. Claim of the Kentucky miners that the award should be made retroactive was based on the contention that the mines in Kentucky were operated on practically a 100 percent basis throughout the strike.

Many New Witnesses Called By Grand Jury

Washing Won't Rid Head Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arsenic, apply it as a night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. Do this tonight, and by morning, most of it will be gone. Do this again, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will be gone, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arsenic at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

The grand jury which was convened by Judge Thomas Monday morning continues to grind away, but if the probes are to coincide their work this week, it will be necessary for them to speed up a bit as subpoenas for 20 additional witnesses were out this morning, making a total of near 200 persons that have been jury today to give evidence in connection with the investigation by that body. It may be necessary for the jury to make a partial report the latter part of the week and adjourn to a later date to complete their work. A number of witnesses from the country districts appeared before the jury today to give evidence in connection with cases under investigation.

11 HENS IDLE; NOW LAY 221 EGGS A MONTH

Mrs. Young Almost Gave Up Raising Chickens. Then She Tried This Plan.

"When I accepted your offer and tried Don Sang, I had been getting 1 or 2 eggs every other day. The next month, using 30 cents worth of Don Sang, my 11 hens laid 221 eggs. I almost gave up raising chickens, but now I have decided to raise as many as I can."

Mrs. F. C. Young, Bellefonte, Pa. Don Sang is too expensive to waste of the hen. You can really start your hens laying and keep them laying, even in coldest winter. To prove it, all you need do is accept our offer, as Mr. Young did.

Give your hens Don Sang and water for one month. If you don't find that it cures for itself and pays you a good profit, tell me and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sang (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sang for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail.

Get Don Sang from your druggist or poultry supply dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail (prepaid). Sorrell-Purser Co., 234 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Banquet Is Called Off

Because of the influenza, the monthly banquet of ministers to have been held last night in the U. B. church, was indefinitely postponed.
While the exact date of the banquet cannot be announced at this time, it is probable that it will be held in the current month and thus not interfere with the March program.
Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, February 16, 17 and 18, state-wide conference of ministers will be held in Columbus, under the auspices of the Inter-Church World Movement, and it is understood that nearly all the ministers of this city will attend.
The purposes of the conference will be education in the desire of the Inter-Church office to appoint the picture of the state with the work of that movement.

Feeling Like An Entirely New Person Now

Sister Told Iron-Tonic Woman To Take Volu-Tonic To Bring Weight

Appetite Comes Back And She Enjoys Meals

Better All Over and Highly Praised the "Builder Of Strength"

"I got to losing weight so rapidly that my sister told me I ought to take Volu-Tonic and said she had found it excellent," said Mrs. Mary Stasse, of 802 South Tenth street, Iron-Tonic. "So I got a bottle of Volu-Tonic and since taking it I feel like an altogether different person."

"My appetite was so poor before I took Volu-Tonic that I didn't care for a thing to eat. I almost had to force my food down my throat. I guess that is why I got to losing weight so rapidly."

"I also was very nervous. In fact, my nervous had been out of order for over five years and couldn't find anything that would help them. I was so restless at night that I couldn't sleep at all and, of course, as a result, I felt bad all through the day."

"As I said, Volu-Tonic has made me feel like a different person. It won't any time at all until my appetite had come back fine and now I eat real meals and enjoy every bit of them, too."

"The first bottle of Volu-Tonic helped my nerves also and they are much better now. I can sleep soundly every night."

"In addition to these things Volu-Tonic also helped my rheumatism. For several weeks I have had twinges of rheumatism in my ankles, but it is about gone now."

"I'm sure glad there is such an excellent medicine as Volu-Tonic on the market, and I advise everybody who feels like I did to try it."

Men and women all over Iron-Tonic are taking Volu-Tonic and many are amazed at the wonderful powers it possesses. If you are feeling weak and run down, get a bottle of Volu-Tonic—TODAY!—at Fisher & Streich's.

Accepted Incident as Mandate.

A remarkable case of ring stealing is related of St. Athina, bishop of Zamora, who lived in the tenth century. He wanted to surrender his bishopric and threw his episcopal ring into the harbor. But a fish brought it back to him, and he concluded that he should continue to bear his burden.

Elaboration of Visiting Card.

French ladies began to embellish their visiting cards with drawings, often, in the spirit of the day, in the form of brains or Cupids. And then with Louis XV, that ardent patron of the arts, came the craze for engravings, and the ladies of the court soon adopted them for their cards to depict scenes on their estates, or that were of some particular interest to them. And under the engravings came the autographed signature! After France, personal cards were adopted in England and all other European countries, varying in detail according to the inclinations of the particular time and place.

HINES CONFERS WITH PALMER ON RAIL CRISIS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—Director General Hines conferred with Attorney General Palmer today on the threatened railroad strike situation. Mr. Palmer refused to discuss the conference further than to say he had been made acquainted with the problems faced by the director general. He denied that the department of justice was contemplating action, declaring that any such statements were unwarranted at this time.

Mr. Palmer would not say, however, that the department would not eventually take a hand in the controversy "Where, when and how" its action might be taken, was a matter for the future to determine, he said. The attorney general did not discuss the possibility that the government might resort to injunction proceedings to stay the threatened strikes of trainmen and maintenance of way employees as it did in the case of the bituminous coal mine strike.

Y. W. C. A. Planning For National Convention

The Y. W. C. A. of the United States of America, will meet for the national convention at Cleveland, April 13 to 20. This will be the first national convention in five years. A convention was scheduled for the spring of 1919, but by the request of the government that unnecessary travel and expense be avoided it was postponed. The past five years have been the most important that the association has ever known. One of the principle things has been that of the war-brides who were turned over by the government to the Y. W. C. A., then in turn sent to the hostess houses where they were met by a "Y" secretary, then sent to Ellis Island, where they were again received by the Y. W. C. A. and turned over to their husbands. This association has received much commendation for its achievements during the war. The many centers of work begun and developed during the war and the place which they have made for themselves in their community are proving so definite a factor that the budget must be stretched to cover the most essential obligations and needs as they now present themselves. So too county always goes over the top in helping the cause, and it is hoped that every one will do his part. Be sure to attend the Community Sing and give a generous offering to help the Y. W. C. A.

A beautiful noon wedding took place today in the Franklin Avenue M. E. church, the marriage of Miss Bertha Bremer and Mr. Clarence Collins of Columbus being solemnized by the Rev. A. L. Martin. While the guests assembled, Miss Margaret Goltz, the church organist, played a program of appropriate numbers, including "At the Wedding" and "O Promise Me". Miss Ethel L. Egan, a friend of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly," preceding the procession from Lohengrin, which announced the entrance of the bride party. The bride was lovely in a charming frock of white crepe meteor and shiny veil, complete with a bouquet of Ophelia roses and freesias. Her maid, Miss Lillian J. ARE YOU A TARGET FOR INFLUENZA?

It kills listless, Run-Down People First--Their Blood Is Thin

Germ Everywhere In Epidemic Be Prepared--Strengthen And Build Up Your Blood With Pepto-Mangan

If it is true that you are not feeling your best--if you have that "run-down" feeling and no interest in anything--then you should be careful of the influenza.

It is a thin-blooded, anemic people that disease strikes first. The fact that you have it is a very few serious illnesses has nothing to do with it. Everyone gets run-down occasionally, and when they do the blood is in no condition to fight off disease germs, because it has not enough red corpuscles. It is the red corpuscles of the blood that fight disease and save you from sickness.

You simply cannot afford to take chances when influenza is striking down "run-down" everywhere. Fortify your blood--build it up with the pleasant, tonic, Pepto-Mangan.

And should you be just recovering from influenza, you need Pepto-Mangan because your blood has lost its strength. Pepto-Mangan will help build you up.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. Comes in either liquid or tablet form. No difference in medicinal properties. Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan--"Gude's." Ask for it by the name and be sure the full name is on the package.

Very effective is the simplicity of this dance frock which will be appropriate for any of the festivities which usually crowd into the month of February. This year there will be added to the Valentine and Martha Washington parties the Leap Year dances. Old gold colored metal cloth is simply draped to form the skirt and the bodice is of the surplice type. A bit of gold lace forms the underskirt and a small bunch of bright nurse crapes are the only evidence of trimming.

TORTURING RHEUMATISM

No Respector of Persons

If you will get it fixed in your mind that in many forms Rheumatism is a blood disease and cannot be cured by local treatment, you will then by proper treatment begin to get the permanent relief you have been seeking for so many years.

In this article we want to explain to you the cause of this most painful of all diseases, also offer suggestions founded on reason and long years of experience, which enable you to secure the right treatment if you are afflicted with any of the various forms of Rheumatism.

Rheumatism is often a specific blood fermentation, a scouring of the circulation from an excess of uric acid accumulating in the blood stream. This uric acid impurity comes usually as a result of constipation, weak kidneys, indigestion and stomach disturbances.

These systemic irregularities of long duration, but each has a direct effect on the eliminative members of the body, which prevents the proper removal of the waste products. This uric acid remains in the stomach and bowels and souring forms uric acid, which he blood quickly absorbs.

Rheumatism is usually manifested in the joints and muscles. It is here its sharpest twinges of pain are felt, and stiffening of the ligaments and tendons first commences. The pain of Rheumatism is caused by the contact of the sensory nerves with the gritty, acid formation which uric acid causes to accumulate in the corners of the blood about the joints. The stiffening of muscles and joints is usually gradual. Consequently the blood deposits the uric acid into the joints, and slowly the natural fluids are dried up and destroyed. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic and serious.

It is then that this poison in the blood has stopped the strength. The weakened blood has allowed poison and impurities to accumulate leaving the sufferer with all energy gone.

Scientists have discovered that forest and fields are abundantly supplied with vegetation of various kinds that furnish the ingredients for making a remedy for practically every ill and ailment of mankind. Medicines made from roots, herbs and barks which Nature has placed at the disposal of man, are better than strong mineral mixtures and concoctions. Mineral medicines work dangerously on the delicate parts of the system, especially the stomach and bowels, by eating out the lining membrane, producing chronic dyspepsia and often entirely ruining the health.

S. S. S. is guaranteed to be a purely vegetable remedy. It is made entirely of gently-acting healing, purifying, roots, herbs, direct effect on the eliminative members of the body, which prevents the proper removal of the waste products. This uric acid remains in the stomach and bowels and souring forms uric acid, which he blood quickly absorbs.

Rheumatism is usually manifested in the joints and muscles. It is here its sharpest twinges of pain are felt, and stiffening of the ligaments and tendons first commences. The pain of Rheumatism is caused by the contact of the sensory nerves with the gritty, acid formation which uric acid causes to accumulate in the corners of the blood about the joints. The stiffening of muscles and joints is usually gradual. Consequently the blood deposits the uric acid into the joints, and slowly the natural fluids are dried up and destroyed. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic and serious.

THOUSANDS DIED OF INFLUENZA

Doctors Sound Early Warning to Prevent Recurrence of Dreaded Malady This Year.

Avoid closed rooms where there are a number of people. Sleep with your windows open, use a good garage at night before retiring and every morning when you arise. Table salt and water can be used for this purpose. Keep yourself in good physical condition.

Get a box of Blackie Tablets from your druggist. They are easy to take and contain no alcohol. One for adults and one-half of one for children taken every other night at bed time will assist nature in providing a gentle, sure acting laxative that will keep the system thoroughly cleaned and free from germs.

The influenza germ enters the body through the nose or mouth and is carried to the intestine with the mucus. A constipated condition prevents the bowels from throwing off the poisonous matter allowing the germ to enter the system. Blackie Tablets are sold by all druggists at 25c per box. Advertisement.

MARITAL CORVINA STONE.
The corvin or corvina is the name of an imaginary stone that has been the superstitions of long ago. According to the old superstition this stone will cause the owner to be loved and honored. It was to be obtained in this manner: Take the eggs from a crow's nest, and lay them in hot oil. Replace them in the nest, and the mother will go in search of her young in order to rectify her error. After the mother came had brought the wonderful stone to her nest, it was of course to be taken from her, and the mother of the nest would become sad and honored.

All Scrapps Goodly Eggs can be found here. See this wonderful corner at the Superior Motors Co. Gallia 2nd Gay St. $12.35 delivered.

Paint before the insects

The friend of an English clergyman, who was spending a few days in the latter's parish, says the Curate, even up to a neighboring country church one day and found an old man just turning away from the door, "locked and bolted," she said. She then told him that she lived in a neighboring village and that she was over every now and then in the church in which she had been christened and confirmed and married for it was always the same—the door never got in. "But what reason can the vicar have for keeping the church shut up?" asked the friend. "I don't know, sir I'm sure," she said. "I should think either he must be afraid of someone getting in and proving or else he's afraid of God's punishment, and seeing what a sinner his parish is in."

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Wheatness developed in the corn market today despite an evident tendency on the part of the country to hold grain back.

Opening prices, which varied from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, and July 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, were followed by a material setback all around.

In the last half of the day provisions showed sharply with corn. Oats were depressed owing to the weakness of corn. After opening at 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, including May at 70 1/2, to 77, the market continued to develop. Provisions at first reflected the strength of the hog market. But quickly turned to place in sympathy with grain.

The close was unsettled. 2 1/4 to 4 1/2 net higher, with May 1 30 7 1/2 to 1 31 and July 1 28 to 1 29 1/2.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Prospects of an extension of the threatened strike of the railroad employees of the country accounted chiefly for the further weakness of stocks at the active opening of today's session. Italic, ship-building motors and steel led the decline with the usual specialties. Irregular declines occurred within the first 15 minutes when General Motors and American Woolen rose about 3 points. United States Steel was conspicuous for the sale of a block of 3,000 shares at a slight fractional gain.

Losses ranged from 2 to 8 points among industrials of various classes, shipping losing 1 to 3 and rails 1 to 2. Temporary rallies ensued on the 8 per cent opening rate for call loans.

The approaching holiday and the more serious railroad outlook prompted further general selling in the stock market today. High grade rails were conspicuous in the many extreme losses of 2 to 10 points. Sales approximately 1,300,000 shares.

The closing was weak.

Owners' Approval Is Like a Rousing Cheer

The Cleveland Six, from coast to coast, is establishing its place in motor-dom. The bitter cold days of the Northern winter have proved its ease of starting, just as the hot summer days, when hundreds of new Cleverlands were being driven across the country, proved the perfection of its radiation.

The Cleveland Six is in the hands of owners all over the United States today, and the chorus of satisfactory approval from these owners is like a rousing cheer. They say the car surprises them, pleases them, delights them. Its pliant power, its simple ease of handling, its boat-like comfort, surpass all expectations. If you hope and plan to start the new season with a new five-passenger touring car which is a real six, such a car of roadster type with wide, deep seat of restful cushioning and plenty of stow-away space, then come in and see the Cleveland Six.

Constance Binney in "Erstwhile Susan" REALART PICTURES

Constance Binney in "Erstwhile Susan" at Lyric Tonight

You may have seen Mrs. Elsie in her recent stage success, "Erstwhile Susan"; you have probably read "Barnabette," the popular novel by Helen H. Martin, on which the play was based. Constance Binney is the star of "Erstwhile Susan"—Constance Binney whose youthful beauty and wistful charm made her the dramatic sensation of New York and won her stardom on screen and stage.

"Erstwhile Susan" is a happy love story—the tale of a poor little household drudge who becomes the Governor's lady—of the clash between nineteenth century ideas and twentieth century ideals. A unique problem confronts the heroine, after she has blossomed into the full flower of glorious youth and womanhood. She is wooed by three men—a village schoolmaster, a college president and a senator. Which shall she choose? To decide, she devises a test—one that will keep "Erstwhile Susan" is the sort of a picture that restores faith in humanity and sends you home pleased, happy and optimistic. Miss Binney is sure to captivate you; and her supporting cast is truly exceptional. You'll be mighty glad you saw "Erstwhile Susan."

It is a matter of actual fact that Dort owners find but the barest fraction of their time taken up with giving mechanical attention to the car.

It "stands up", as the saying is, in the most difficult service with a dogged endurance.

Furthermore, and this is important, the Dort averages a very high mileage per gallon of gas and quart of oil.

It is essentially a car you can depend upon for both excellence and economy in performance.

ONLY A SMALL MATTER

ACCORDING to Frank Vanderlip, who is an authority on things financial particularly and economics generally, the rejuvenation of Europe is in the hands of the American farmer. If he will supply her with a million and a half dollars worth of foodstuffs and raw material the work will be done.

That's easy, if the American farmer sets his hands to the mission. All that is necessary is to persuade him. He would be easily persuaded, too, if he could be shown how necessary the restoration of Europe to normal conditions is to his future. Prices of farm products, as of all things else, are based primarily on demand with reference to the surplus. The wider the disposition of the article the smaller the surplus and, consequently, the higher the price. Europe takes America's surplus principally. Our wheat, meat and cotton and many raw materials are necessary to her. She takes largely also of corn, hay, oats, potatoes, apples and eggs, showing ever an increasing consumption of these and many other farm products. It stands to reason, that if she be placed on her feet, if her people are given the strength to work and produce out of our raw materials and carry on their trade and commerce the better consumers will they become of these other things.

The general truth is the whole world needs rebuilding and nothing will contribute to that so much, in fact, nothing can bring about the reconstruction except work and production. The farmer must, therefore, work and produce as he did when the stress of war was on and when his energy and industry lay at the foundation of the success of right.

It isn't he alone, of course, that must produce. Labor diligently as he may, he can not alone carry the burden. The laborer and he of every pursuit must emulate him. For the task isn't for one class, but for all men.

BACK TO THE OWNERS

WASHINGTON hasn't any doubt that Wilson has gone the limit in waiting upon congress and will return the railroads to their owners on March 1st, whether or not action is had from congress by that date.

His opponents therein, while free to denounce the taking over of the roads by the government and having nothing but strictures of the management thereof since, seemed utterly incapable of agreeing upon any plans regarding thereto themselves and they have been dillydallying along in the futile hope that something might turn up to political advantage and fearing at the same time to do something lest it might hurt the party.

Now, after March comes, they will find responsibility shifted elsewhere and learn it is a great deal easier to complain and find fault than it is to look pleasant and solve intricate problems, to please everybody, when half the country is not wishing to be pleased from the source.

And, incidentally, the passing back to the old situation in respect to the railroads will supply an acute accentuation of this phase in a popular government. The admiration got not a kind word from republicans for taking over the railroads as a war measure and now that they are to be put back democrats will not have a single kindly word to say of the efforts of a republican congress to formulate legislation affecting them, it isn't to make a particle of difference whether that legislation is utter folly, or the acme of wisdom.

THE AWKWARD MIGHT HAVE BEEN

A STORY of much circulation is that when that notorious private individual, William Hosenzoller, was still kaiser, but saw his throne tottering, he had all his plans laid away and his millions stowed safely away, with the purpose of fleeing to America and again becoming king in Wall street.

That may or not be a true tale; most likely it is a vivid piece of fiction, but supposing it to be true and the kaiser's scheme had not gone agley, then the United States would be in a pretty pickle. For Europe is complaining this government is holding altogether aloof from the demand upon Germany for surrender of war materials and we would then have been in the position that Holland is now with something like a kindred aversion to doing what she is asked to do. So no matter what may have been the ultimate course of the country in the matter of holding the ex-kaiser to answer for perpetrating the world's most colossal crime, we have reason to thank our good star that it has escaped us the "what might have been."

If that Hoosier Daily piles up much more evidence like that he has been bringing in against a distinguished individual named Newberry, it might become apropos to refer to him as blueberry.

Set the groundhog down as a partial liar anyway. One week of his six has been altogether decent.

Talking about prices going up, what about those on Portsmouth reality. They remind one of the words of a popular song—they almost reach the sky, only the sky seems to have no limit, nor for that matter, do some really prices. Pray, though, that the latter be no bubble to burst.

At Wednesday's luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce, the subject for consideration will be a new court house. The best argument to be made therefor is to lug the whole membership down to the present ancient and dilapidated affair and make them go through it.

Only costs a dollar to become a member of the Red Cross, but it's worth a hundred of any man's money in the good it will do right now.

They all come in flocks. We are to have the legislature in session again and the debate on the peace treaty resumed.

SHE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

Two weeks have passed since I wrote last in my diary. We have been half a month at Hamwood's Corners.

The little house I found stately and comfortable as the reception room of an institution. The housekeeper, a stiff person, who appeared to classify me somewhere between a business visitor and a clock model (I know she considers my pale-red hair absolutely immoral), has returned to her eager family. I have revelled in the re-arrangement of the little house as only a woman can.

A portable garage has appeared back of the garden, and within it a sleek runabout which appears to me almost to have horse sense. So far Jim always drives it. But I'm going to learn. I can't bear to be propelled along rapidly by some motor power I cannot myself control.

This home and garden, these simple neighbors, my everyday duties and interests, my pup and kitten, my husband who comes home to muddle "dinner" like a workman, the quiet days and restful nights—these things may not be life, as I dreamed of it. But they evoke my life. And greater philosophers than I have concluded that love and life are one thing to a woman.

I look back to my girlhood days in Centerville and wonder why I found them so unsatisfying. I look back and think of the people there—people I used to pity for their narrow thoughts and monotonous lives. All at once the reason is clear to me. They have no resources. I had no resources and no interest.

I taken city people to be happy in the country. Because they have resources, perspective, contrast. You do not find country people with their windows open and sunshine flooding the front porch. It takes these who have not always lived in the country to appreciate the sweet fresh air and the sense of space. You don't see

New York - Day - By - Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 11—
 I never had enough money.
 When I was a boy.
 To take in the side shows.
 In fact I generally.
 Slipped in the circus.
 Under the side tent.
 And I enjoy frezko.
 I even want.
 To hear Masterlick.
 So now that a dime museum.
 Has opened on Broadway.
 I've been running away.
 From work every morning.
 And loafing around.
 Watching Zip, the Whistist.
 Lena, the Fat Woman.
 Oke, the Iron Jawed Jap.
 Count Blinn, the midget.
 And George, the Ossified Man.
 And they all know me.
 And when I come in.
 They whisper to one another.
 And I imagine they say:
 "Well, the Nut is in again."
 But I don't care.
 I'd rather look at frezko.
 Than see an Eisen play.
 Or play bridge.
 Or see a villain.

Chase a movie heroine.
 Or a high class.
 So the other morning.
 I took my wife down.
 And while she looked around.
 I sat down in a chair.
 And a crowd breezed in.
 And they looked all around.
 And finally came.
 To where I was sitting.
 And a little boy cried:
 "Oh, Mom! Look at the skinny guy."
 And the others came up.
 And looked me all over.
 And a lady asked me.
 If I had any pictures.
 That I wanted to sell.
 She had just bought one.
 Of the India Rubber Man.
 And I gave her a look.
 That was a look, believe me.
 And then I got my wife.
 And took her out of there.
 And I'm not going back.
 The next time they may.
 Try to stick pins in me.

BILLY WHISKERS

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

One day when all the goats were grazing in the pasture, Billy Whiskers looked up and saw coming towards them the farmer and a large fat man. "What can they want?" thought Billy. "I guess I will walk out to meet them and hear what they are talking about."

As he came within hearing distance he heard the farmer say: "There he comes now, the one I was telling you about, and I don't think you will have any trouble in teaching him anything you want to, for he seems very smart and not afraid of 'Old Nick' himself."

And Billy to himself, "And I will say them a good chase if they try to catch me. And should they catch me? They the farmer and a large fat man. When I get there, for I shall be as sharp horns to advantage and get their old teeth and come back to my own. Now they are looking at me. Maybe the man will buy him. No, I am afraid he won't for he is shilling his head and pointing at me, and his hand. The farmer is talking to me to eat. Oh, no, Mr. Farmer, I am too old a goat to be caught by a shill. However, I will stand still on this side of the stream and see what they will do."

And there Billy stood with his long horns raised waiting for them and he saw a fine picture of a goat as you have seen, standing on a little green island with the silvery stream running at his feet.

The circus man was delighted with him for he was twice the size of any other goat he had ever seen, and he thought how fine he would do as a professor with his long shilly beard.

By this time the men were directly opposite Billy and he noticed that the circus man kept his hands behind his all the time, but presently he saw them forward and in one he held a rope with a long loop in it.

"So, ho!" thought Billy, "they expect to tie the rope around my neck don't they? Well, let him cross the stream and catch me first."

The circus man was thinking of this when Billy was making the loop fly around and around his head in a long circle, and soon with a quick twist, the rope straightened out and the rope fell over Billy's head and settled on his neck while he stood looking at them.

(Tomorrow Billy is led away to the Circus.)

RESULT OF RAIL CONTROVERSY HINGES ON CONFERENCE TODAY

OFFER BY FREDERICK WILLIAM IMPULSIVE

AMSTERDAM, Tuesday, Feb. 10.—Former Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany, sent his telegram to the heads of allied governments offering to surrender in place of Germans detained in the allied extradition list, according to an interview with Major Von Moltke, the former prince's adjutant, published in the Telegram.

"The former heir to the German throne," said the major, "took his resolution without thinking long about it. The return of Baron Von Lersberg from Paris and the serious situation which has arisen in Berlin in consequence prompted the prince to send his telegram. He hopes by this to avert serious difficulties for Germany."

Dutch newspapers describe his action as a "fateful gesture."

ASSEMBLY CONVENES TO WIPE OUT SLEEPERS

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 11.—Facing the possibility of a session lasting into next week, the general assembly will convene this afternoon. The legislation called to reassemble to have presiding officers sign 100 or more bills that had not been enacted when the session quit last week, is to consider a number of defects said to have been introduced in various bills. It is expected that "sleepers" are contained in the number of bills, including the cold storage and Toledo street railway measures. These and other similar bills probably will be straggled out before the assembly finally decides to go home, those in touch with the situation say.

Word has been circulated today that the assembly may recess after the 10 o'clock session, but the governor has not yet decided on this. Such a course would give the Republicans an opportunity to pass measures over the governor's veto in case that official should disapprove some of the party measures. The Republican state organization, it has become known, has written all Republican legislators asking them to attend the session.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Prospects of continuation of the threatened strike of the railroad employees of the country, which is the active opening of today's session. Ralls, ship, and other stocks led the decline in the market specialties. Irregularities occurred within the first 15 minutes when General Motors and Western Union rose about 3 points, and State Steel was conspicuous for a sale of a block of 5,000 shares at a fractional gain.

Two Cent Fare Law Repealed

ATTEMPTS TO TAKE HER OWN LIFE

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 11.—Melanchole, due to the death of her father, prompted 19-year-old Mildred V. Ames, of Ada, Okla., a student nurse, to attempt suicide this morning, according to police, by taking poison in her room at a hotel. Early this morning she called the hotel clerk by telephone, saying she had taken poison and asked for a doctor. She was unconscious when the physician arrived, but recovered consciousness long enough to say that she had taken twelve poison tablets. The poison is such that she may linger for days or weeks before death finally comes, hospital physicians said, holding out no hope for her recovery.

Robert Underwood Johnson Is Selected Ambassador To Rome By The President

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—Robert Underwood Johnson, of New York, author and editor and one of the founders of the League to Enforce Peace, has been selected by President Wilson as ambassador to Rome, to succeed Thomas Nelson Page, of Virginia, who resigned several months ago. The president is expected to send the nomination to the senate within a few days.

Mr. Johnson was originator of the memorial to Keats and Shelley in Rome, originator and chairman of the poets' ambulance in Italy in 1917, and author of Italian rhymed poetry and other poems of Italy published in 1917. He was decorated by the Italian government in 1918. Mr. Johnson was born in Washington 67 years ago and was editor of the Century Magazine from November, 1902, to May, 1913. He induced General Grant to write his memoirs and set on foot the movement which resulted in the creation of the Yosemite National Park.

OHIOANS TO HELP DIRECT POLITICAL FIGHT OF A. F. OF L.

William Green, above, and John P. Frey.

A nation-wide fight to elect friends of organized labor to state and national offices will be conducted by the American Federation of Labor. Records of men who have been unfriendly toward labor will be given wide publicity in the campaign, which will be directed by the national non-partisan political campaign committee recently named by the federation. Listed on the committee are two Ohioans, William Green of Cochrton, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, and John P. Frey of Norwood, editor of the International Molders' union. The move of the federation to conduct a non-partisan fight to elect its friends eliminates the possibility of a third or labor party being formed.

TO PROLONG THE NAVAL HEARING

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—The question of exactly what was said in the conversation between Rear Admiral William S. Sims and three members of congress in Paris during the war probably will lead the senate committee investigating the award of naval decorations to prolong the hearing in justice to both sides.

Admiral Sims denied that he had made statements belittling the participation of the American army and navy in the war as attributed to him by certain members of congress, who cited him in Paris.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Vincenzo Cosmano, a foreman of street sweepers, was held without bail today as the man who murdered "Boss" Enright, labor union leader and leader of Chicago gunmen, who was killed last week by slugs fired from a sawed off shotgun. "Big Tim" Murphy, labor leader, and Mike Carozzo, president of the street sweepers' union, and Murphy's lieutenant, also were held without bail in connection with the killing. Information which led to the arrest of the three men was furnished by Tony Giallo, an alleged Boston gunman, who told state's attorney's detectives and the police that Carozzo approached him with a proposition to kill Enright.

DENMARK RECEIVES MAJORITY

PRISONER IS SPIRITED AWAY FROM LEXINGTON

LEXINGTON, KY., Feb. 11.—Although William Lockett, convicted murderer of 10-year-old Geneva Hardman, was safe today in Edenville prison, where he is to pay the death penalty for his crime, on March 11, 600 troops were told today in Lexington, which remains nominally under martial law.

Military officers spirited Lockett out of town on a special train late last night. Four hundred of the special troops ordered here Monday to suppress anti rioting, in which five persons were killed and many wounded in an unsuccessful attempt to lynch Lockett, accompanied the train.

In view of the fact that there appears to be no further need for presence of soldiers here, it was believed the orders invoking martial law would be revoked today and the remaining federal troops returned to Camp Taylor.

SITUATION IS REGARDED AS CRITICAL

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—The result of the railroad wage conference today between Director General Hines and representatives of the employees' union probably will determine whether the rail transportation systems are to be tied up by a strike before the government surrenders control.

The situation was regarded as critical by the railroad administration and union officials. At the conference, which in effect is a wage negotiation between the government and more than 2,000,000 railroad workers, vigorous efforts will be made to reach an agreeable settlement.

A new statement of what the unions of operating employees regard as essential to their well being, have been presented to Mr. Hines, who announced that he would make answer today. W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen, continued to press the demands of his organization, which has served a 30 day notice, effective February 23, of abrogation of the existing wage contract and has taken a strike vote, said to be largely in favor of cessation of work if the demands are not met.

While the other three brotherhoods are not supporting the trainmen "aggressively," a strike by one union, it is pointed out, would affect traffic seriously as the laws of most states forbid operation of trains without full crews. The maintenance of way employees also have served notice of a strike February 17, unless they are given more money. Railroad administration officials said the union was violating its contract in not giving 30 days' notice.

WELSHMEN TO MEET

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 11.—Welshmen of the Western Reserve will meet here next Saturday at the American gospel rally, to be held at the Y. M. C. A. ONLY A SMALL MATTER

ACCORDING to Frank Vanderlip, who is an authority on things financial particularly and economics generally, the regeneration of Europe is in the hands of the American farmer. If he will supply her with a million and a half dollars worth of foodstuffs and raw material the work will be done.

That's easy, if the American farmer sets his hands to the mission. All that is necessary is to persuade him. He would be easily persuaded, too, if he could be shown how necessary the restoration of Europe to normal conditions is to his future. Prices of farm products, as of all things else, are based primarily on demand with reference to the surplus. The wider the disposition of the smaller the surplus and, consequently, the higher the price. Europe takes America's surplus principally. Our wheat, meat and cotton and many raw materials are necessary to her. She takes largely also of corn, hay, oats, potatoes, apples and eggs, showing ever an increasing consumption of these and many other farm products. It stands to reason, that if she be placed on her feet, if her people are given the strength to work and produce out of our raw materials and carry on their trade and commerce the better consumers will they become of these other things.

The general truth is the whole world needs rebuilding and nothing will contribute to that so much, in fact, nothing can bring about the reconstruction except work and production. The farmer must, therefore, work and produce as he did when the stress of war was on and when his energy and industry lay at the foundation of the success of right.

It isn't he alone, of course, that must produce. Labor diligently as he may, he can not alone carry the burden. The laborer and he of every pursuit must emulate him. For the task isn't for one class, but for all men.

BACK TO THE OWNERS

WASHINGTON hasn't any doubt that Wilson has gone the limit in waiting upon congress and will return the railroads to their owners on March 1st, whether or not action is had from congress by that date.

His opponents therein, while free to denounce the taking over of the roads by the government and having nothing but strictures of the management thereof since, seemed utterly incapable of agreeing upon any plans regarding themselves and they have been dillydallying along in the futile hope that something might turn up to political advantage and fearing at the same time to do something lest it might hurt the party.

Now, after March comes, they will find responsibility shifted elsewhere and learn it is a great deal easier to complain and find fault than it is to look pleasant and solve intricate problems, to please everybody, when half the country is not wishing to be pleased from the source.

And, incidentally, the passing back to the old situation in respect to the railroads will supply an acute accentuation of this phase in a popular government. The admiration got not a kind word from republicans for taking over the railroads as a war measure and now that they are to be put back democrats will not have a single kindly word to say of the efforts of a republican congress to formulate legislation affecting them, it isn't to make a particle of difference whether that legislation is utter folly, or the sense of wisdom.

THE AWKWARD MIGHT HAVE BEEN

A STORY of much circulation is that when that notorious private individual, William Hohenzollern, was still kaiser, but saw his throne tottering, he had all his plans laid away and his millions stowed safely away, with the purpose of fleeing to America and again becoming king in Wall Street.

That may or not be a true tale; most likely it is a vivid piece of fiction, but supposing it to be true and the kaiser's scheme had not gone agley, then the United States would be in a pretty pickle. For Europe is complaining this government is holding altogether aloof from the demand upon Germany for surrender of war materials and we would then have been in the position that Holland is now, with something like a kindred aversion to doing what she is asked to do. So no matter what may have been the ultimate course of the country in the matter of holding the ex-kaiser to answer for perpetrating the world's most colossal crime, we have reason to thank our good star that it has escaped us the "what might have been."

If that Hoosier Daily piles up much more evidence like that he has been bringing in against a distinguished individual named Strawberry, it might become apropos to refer to him as blueberry.

Set the groundhog down as a partial liar anyway. One week of his six has been altogether decent.

Talking about prices going up, what about those on Portsmouth reality. They remind one of the words of a popular song—they almost reach the sky, only the sky seems to have no limit, for for that matter, do some really prices. Pray, though, that the latter be no bubble to burst.

At Wednesday's luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce, the subject for consideration will be a new court house. The best arrangement to be made therefor is to lug the whole membership down to the present ancient and dilapidated affair and make them go through it.

Only costs a dollar to become a member of the Red Cross, but it's worth a hundred of any man's money in the good it will do right now.

They all come in flocks. We are to have the legislature in session again and the debate on the peace treaty resumed.

THE MARRIED AVERAGE MAN

Two weeks have passed since I country people got off on long trips through the hills and woods. They have lived among them till familiarly breeds contempt.

So the country folks come to the city and the city folks try to the green fields.

I have left Ann Sulzberg in the city with the crowds and the noise. I feel literally as if I were another woman, with a different outlook, a new set of interests, a truer perspective.

I find it pleasant to be spoken to by neighbors as I work in my garden. I find myself looking up from my sewing as some one passes by my window. I quit my eyes in order to try to recognize them across the front lawn, and laugh as I find myself wondering if Mrs. Johnson is only just going down to the village to do her marketing, mine being done two hours ago.

I catch myself throwing up my arms and breathing deep, with closed eyes and swiftly running blood as I smell the springtime odors of my garden, as if I had recovered from an illness and was eager to expand my lungs and try out the strength of my limbs.

As for Jim! I shall never believe again that Jim cannot understand my woman's nature. He does and gives me daily proof. It was only that I didn't know how to put forward my arguments.

He is slow. I am impatient and impatient. He had to reconstruct his mind and that takes time. But he has done it and I have done it. And at last we have a mutual interest—without which no married pair can be happy—in our case the home.

As I look out the window I see Jim coming up the path. I watch him with new and more loving eyes. I never realized before what a joy it is to give something up—just to "give in."

New - York - Day - By - Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 11—

I never had enough money.

When I was a boy.

To take in the side shows.

In fact I generally.

Slipped in the circus.

Under the side tent.

And I enjoy freaks.

I even want.

To hear Master Bluck.

So now that a dime museum.

Has opened on Broadway.

I've been running away.

From work every morning.

And loafing around.

Watching Zip, the Whistler.

Lena, the Fat Woman.

Okin, the Iron Jawed Jap.

Count Blum, the midget.

And George, the O-Slited Man.

And they all know me.

And when I come in.

They whisper to one another.

And I imagine they say:

"Well, the Nat is in again."

But I don't care.

I'd rather look at freaks.

Than see an Eisen play.

Or play bridge.

Or see a villain.

Chase a movie heroine.

Off a high cliff.

So the other morning.

I took my wife down.

And while she looked around.

I sat down in a chair.

And a crowd breasted in.

And they looked all around.

And finally came.

To where I was sitting.

And a little boy cried:

"Oh, Mom! Look at the skinny guy."

And the others came up.

And looked me all over.

And a lady asked me.

If I had any pictures.

That I wanted to sell.

She had just bought one.

Of the India Rubber Man.

And I gave her a look.

That was a look, believe me.

And then I got my wife.

And took her out of there.

And I'm not going back.

The next time they may.

Try to stick pins in me.

WILLIAM LEROY EMMET

William Leroy Emmet, pioneer developer of the principle of electric propulsion for ships and designer of the Curtis steam turbine, has been awarded the Edison medal for 1919 for meritorious achievement.

Emmet is a resident of Schenectady, N. Y., where he is engaged in electrical engineering, or the electrical arts.

The Edison medal was founded by the Edison Medal Association, composed of associates and friends of Thomas A. Edison. It is awarded annually by a committee of 25 members of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and is among the highest honors in the electrical profession.

W. L. R. Emmet was born at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 10, 1850. For many years he has been consulting engineer of the General Electric Company, where he designed the electric propulsion machinery for the battleship New Mexico, the first warship of any nation to be driven electrically. He also designed electric machinery for the Collier Jupiter, the first naval vessel to be electrically propelled.

His home is in Schenectady, N. Y.

Said he: "The trains were very crowded, and I had to sit with my knees drawn up for a long time, so long that my trousers stretched awfully at the knees. To give you an idea, when I got out of the train I went to the river and watched the boats and as I stood there a small boy came up to me and said: 'Say, mister, I've been watching you for ten minutes. If you are going to jump, ay' have done with it.'"

BILLY WHISKER

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

One day when all the goats were grazing in the pasture, Billy Whisker looked up and saw coming towards them the farmer and a large fat man.

"What can they want?" thought Billy. "I guess I will walk out to meet them and hear what they are talking about."

As he came within hearing distance he heard the farmer say: "Here he comes now, the one I was telling you about, and I don't think you will have any trouble in teaching him anything you want to, for he seems very smart and not afraid of 'Old Nick' this self."

And there Billy stood with his head raised waiting for them and he made a fine picture of a goat as you ever saw, standing on a little green knoll with the silvery stream running at his feet.

The circus man was delighted with this for he was twice the size of any other goat he had ever seen, and he thought how fine he would dress up as a professor with his long silky beard.

By this time the men were directly opposite Billy and he noticed that the circus man kept his hands behind him all the time, but presently he drew them forward and in one he held a rope with a long loop in it.

"So, ho," thought Billy, "he expects to tie that rope around my neck does he? Well, let him cross the stream and catch me first."

But while Billy was thinking of this the circus man was tugging the rope around and around his head in a long circle, and soon with a quick twist, the rope straightened out and the rope fell over Billy's head and settled on his neck while he stood looking at them.

"Tomorrow Billy is fed away to the circus."

"Before and after marriage."

"Do you girls quarrel?"

"No, we live in a flat and there is no room for argument."

Mistaken Identity

It was a ramshackle little branch railway, but it was the best they had in the neighborhood, and they had to put up with it.

A farmer was expecting a vowel-house to reach the village, and he got his dray and trundled off to the—him—hiderto unknown station to fetch it. Arrived there, he saw his purchase, loaded it onto his wagon, and started for home. On the way back he met the stationmaster.

"What the merry springtime have you got on that dray?" he asked.

"My fowl-house, of course," was the reply.

"Fowl-house, be bothered!" was the justly indignant response; "that's the station!"

Worthy of Encouragement

A note from Texas to the home folks in Georgia reads:

"This is to let you know that Bill is here, a-risin' the devil."

To which the old man replied as follows:

"Tell him to keep at it. First time in his life he ever raised anything."

A Million Years' Wait

Two fishermen were in a gig bank waiting their turn at the cussler's window.

"This reminds me of Finnegan," remarked one.

"What about Finnegan?" asked the other.

"It's a story that Finnegan died, said: 'It's a fine job you've had here said: 'It's a fine job you've had here for a long time.'"

"Well, Finnegan," said Saint Peter, "we've counted a million years as a minute and a million dollars as a cent."

"Ah," said Finnegan, "I'm needing cash. Lend me a cent."

"Sure," says Peter; "just wait a minute."

Bad Condition

"Johnny, did you go and ask Mrs.

Naylor for the loan of her washbasin, as I told you?"

"Yes, mother. She said she is very sorry, but the bands of the tub are loose and the bottom is out and it is full of soapy water."

THIS IS THE MONTH TO STOCK UP ON NEW SPRING BLOUSES

Since suits are always the fashion for spring wear, it is probable that the separate blouse is an important item in the spring wardrobe. February is the month the new blouses make their official appearance, and it is a wise thing to stock up in light blouses during this month.

The belief that wearing apparel costs more at the beginning of the season was once true enough, but today the first new styles are more likely to be the least expensive. You hear on every hand this explanation, "We will not be able to order these models again at the same prices."

Of course, the end of the season always means many sales and a great quantity for reduced prices, but it is only the lucky person who can get wanted size, color, material and style in the remnant sales. Therefore if you want a large selection to choose from and the very freshest, latest styles in blouses, do your blouse buying at the February advance sales of spring goods.

Here are three very pretty blouses for wear with the new spring suit or later. The lace-trimmed one is of voile. The peplum costume blouse is of crepe de chine, and the third one is fashioned of the ever-popular georgette.
